EDUCATION BOARDS OF TEXAS
CITIES WELCOME THE NEWS-PAPER REPORTERS.

SO SAY THE EDITORS OF DAILIES

Waco Morning News Asked for Telegraphic Copies Last Night—They Are Given as Received.

Last night the Waco Morning News sent the following telegram to leading morning papers of Texas:
"Please answer in fifty words, do your reporters attend the meetings of the city school board; is their presence at such meetings deemed harmful to the schools?"
The following answers have been received:

Publicity Is Beneficial.
San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 9.—Reporters attend school board meetings. Publicity of proceedings considered beneficial to schools.

JOHN R. LUNSFORD,
Managing Editor San Antonio Express.

Houston Bears Welcomes Them.
Houston, Tex., Oct. 9.—The practice in Houston for twenty-five years has been for reporters to attend all sessions of the school board. Members of board appear to welcome them and to be perfectly free in their discussions of school matters. When executive sessions are held reporters retire, but executive sessions are not numerous.

THE HOUSTON POST.

Austin Is Wide Open.
Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The Austin school board allows reporters or any other interested citizens to attend its meetings, and in the event anything should not be published submits the reasons and reasonable requests are always given consideration.

CHESTER T. CROWELL,
Managing Editor Statesman.

Public in Fort Worth.
Fort Worth, Oct. 9.—Meetings of the school board are usually attended by reporters. It depends on the desire of the editor or the enterprise of the reporter. There is not the remotest possibility of harm to the schools. On the contrary, reforms have generally sprung from such publicity.

HENNESSY,
Managing Editor Record.

Galveston News Is Invited.
Galveston, Tex., Oct. 9.—The Galveston News receives notice of a school board meeting the same as members of board, by postal card. A reporter always attends. The presence of a reporter has not been regarded as harmful.

TEXAS WOMAN HELD

MRS. ADAM SMITH IS CHARGED WITH POISONING HER HUSBAND.

Body, After Being Buried Thirty Days, Is Examined—Strychnine Found in Large Quantities.

Corpus Christi, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Adam Smith will arrive in Corpus Christi this afternoon in custody of Deputy Sheriff McBride of Fairbury, Ia., and will be placed in the county jail. She is under indictment of the Brooks county grand jury, charged with murder, the indictment being returned last Monday. John A. Whiteman is now in jail at Fairbury charged with being an accomplice.

Mrs. Smith is charged with poisoning her husband in Fairbury, Ia., last April. The victim of the deed man, after being buried for thirty days, was exhumed and sent to the medical college at Galveston and nearly six grains of strychnine were found. Mrs.
Smith's bond in the murder case has been fixed at $3,000, which she has been unable to furnish. She is a white woman about thirty years of age and has a daughter eight years old. Her parents reside in Alice.

DOCTORS MUST OBEY

FEE SPLITTING BARRED BY MED-ICAL ASSOCIATION AT MEETING.

Stringent Action Taken Relative to "Penitentiary" to Be Allocated to Those Who Die.

Fort Worth, Oct. 9.—Decisive action against the practice of fee splitting, as practiced by some physicians in Texas, was taken by the board of councilors of the Texas State Medical association at a meeting at the Westbrook hotel Tuesday. Under the ruling of the board of councilors, any physician who shall be found guilty of splitting fees shall either be reprimanded, suspended or expelled from the medical association.

The stringent action relative to the fee splitting has its inception in the annual convention of the American Medical association at Atlantic City, N. J., last spring.

Texas Ginning Report.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The monthly ginning report of the department of agriculture for the month of September shows the ginning of 1,132,- 447 bales as compared with 1,064,363 bales reported ginned up to the same time in 1911.

'PLOT' TESTIMONY BEING RECEIVED

TELEGRAPH COMPANY MANA-GERS ARE FIRST CALLED IN DYNAMITE CASE.

"PING'S" MESSAGE IS SOUGHT

Government Alleges Telegrams Contained Orders Where Bombs Should
"Be Dropped" by McManigal.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—Telegrams signed "Ping" alleged to have been an alias of Albert E. Hockin and sent to Orrie E. McManigal, directing him where to "drop" dynamite bombs on his trip about the country, were sought by the government through the examination of the first witnesses called in the trial of the accused "dynamite plotters" today.

Managers of telegraph offices in Buffalo, Detroit, Toledo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Evansville, Ind., and Salt Lake City testified. With one exception they stated that the originals of telegrams used by the government covering a period as far back as 1908 had been destroyed in the ordinary course of business. The government asserted it has possession of telegrams as received, and it called the witnesses to show the reason why the original messages as sent cannot be produced.

It was during this period that Mc-Manigal and the McNamara formed the "flying squadron of dynamite," the government charges, often sending McManigal out alone and a telegram with a suitcase full of explosives to await orders by telegraph as to what he should blow up. When James Noel, one of counsel for the government, asked why the telegrams were not produced, Senator John W. Kern, counsel for the defendants, asked the witnesses:

"You don't know that any such telegrams ever existed do you?"

The witnesses replied they could not remember individual messages.

The telegrams, Noel said, were often sent by Hockin, now acting secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers and at present on trial, to McManigal's home in Chicago.

H. A. Knight, manager of a telegraph office at Salt Lake City, was the first witness to produce a telegram.
The telegram was dated Oct. 19, 1911,
and was purported to have been signed by J. E. Munsey, known as "Jack Bright," one of the defendants. According to the government's charges,
J. E. McNamara, after leaving the Los Angeles Times building on Oct.
1, 1910, hid for two weeks in places designated by Munsey. J. J. McNamara, then secretary of the Iron Workers' headquarters in Indianapolis, was anxious about his brother after the Los Angeles explosion.

Telegram Produced.

The telegram as identified by Mr.
Knight and Mrs. Charles McCarthy, who was the defendant's clerk at Salt Lake City, was as follows:
"J. J. McNamara, Indianapolis—Everything is o. k.; glad C. is coming.
Patient is out of danger and will get well. He is improving right along.
You can depend on me to handle matters carefully. Will wire you if there is any change. J. E. Munsey, 2225 South West Temple street."

It would be shown, government counsel said, that "C," referred to,
was Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco, on trial here, who had been in Boston when the Times disaster occurred and who was about to start on a fishing trip with Michael J. Young of Boston, also a defendant, but the news of the disaster at Los Angeles induced Clancy to change his mind, and, after sending a telegram to San Francisco, he decided to hurry west. Examination of telegraph managers had not been concluded when court adjourned until tomorrow.

GOVERNOR TO OUST MURPHY

Will Not Reappoint Temple Man Who Supported Ramsey for Governor in the Late Campaign.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—It developed today that Governor Colquitt some time ago in a letter to Secretary Murphy of the state dental board, resigning of Temple, suggested to Dr.
Murphy that his resignation would be acceptable.

Governor Colquitt is said to have found that Dr. Murphy in the recent primary supported W. E. Ramsey for the governorship and thought that Dr.
Murphy should be willing to resign on this ground.

Dr. Murphy replied that he would remain in office until the governor removed him. The formal demand for his resignation has not been made, but with the expiration of Dr. Murphy's present term, he will not be reappointed.

Residence at Hubbard Burns.

Hubbard, Oct. 9.—Between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire destroyed the elegant two-story residence of Dr. A. B. Jenkins on North Sixth street, together with most of its contents. The fire originated in the kitchen and had gained considerable headway before the volunteer fire company arrived. Their work was excellent and prompt attention on their part saved the residences of Frank Barrett and Dr. W. J. Jarvis, which caught from flying shingles.

Dr. Jenkins' loss is estimated at $6,000 to $7,000, with partial insurance.
But little damage was done to other property.

condemned to thirty years penal servitude.

SHOT OF PRINCE STARTS WARFARE

RUMORS THAT BULGARIA AND SERVIA HAVE DECLARED ARE UNCONFIRMED.

SUNDRY INTERPRETATIONS

Europe in Perilous Condition, Whether States Win or Lose, Is the Belief Expressed.

WAR ACTIVITIES START; PRINCE FIRES FIRST

Podgoritz, Montenegro, Oct. 9.—
The Montenegrin army opened war against Turkey this morning by attacking a strong Turkish position opposite Podgoritz.

Prince Peter, the youngest son of King Nicholas, fired the first shot. This was the signal for firing all along the line, and an artillery duel ensued.

Within 15 minutes five Turkish guns were silenced, and the Turkish retreated from their position on Mount Planatata. By noon the Turks had evacuated the mountain.

London, Oct. 9.—Another day has elapsed without so far as known, any extension of the Balkan war. Earlier rumors that Bulgaria and Servia have declared war are not confirmed. None of the embassies of legations in London tonight had heard of any development since Montenegro made her hostile declaration against Turkey.

It may be assumed that while making some show of deference towards the powers intervention, the Balkan states are busily engaged in completing concentration of their forces. The king of Greece returned to Athens today and some definitive move can now be expected of Greece.

Hesitation Starts Rumors.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The French foreign office at a late hour tonight still was without a reply from Sofia, Athens or Belgrade, and the only suggestion thus far as to its possible tenor is found in the remark of the Bulgarian foreign minister when the note of the powers was delivered that "perhaps it would have had a better chance of success if presented at a fortnight earlier."

Bulgaria's hesitation is variously interpreted. Most of the diplomats are of the opinion that it is merely to gain time for war preparations. But a shrewd minority has not given up hope that King Zerdan is searching for some ground to enable him to give satisfaction to the powers without risking his own crown.

A semi-official note re-iterates that the accord of the powers is such that even if war breaks out it is sure to be localized. This doubtless is designated to allay anxiety that might have been aroused by the review published in the Journal Des Debates.

The opinion is expressed by the paper that the war will engulf the entire Balkan peninsula because it was decided upon not only by the Balkan states but also by several great powers.

War Evident.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—A general war in the Balkans has been practically inaugurated, and the press in Germany. At the foreign

GOV. WILSON AND CLARK TOGETHER

DEMOCRAT WHO WON AND AN-OTHER DEFEATED ARE IN JOINT TOUR.

REPEAT THEIR HANDSHAKE

Champ Declares He Is for Democratic Nominee, as All of That Party Should Be.

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Speaker Champ
Clark and Governor Wilson campaigned together today in Illinois and Missouri, the two states which showed preference
by Clark by a heavy vote in the primaries for the Democratic presidential nomination. Enthusiasm marked the greeting the two men received as they appeared in several cities.

"The office of president of the United States is the greatest in the world," Speaker Clark said at Springfield, Illinois. "That's why I wanted to be president. I don't have to tell this audience that Woodrow Wilson was not my first choice. My first choice was defeated.
However, I am now for Governor Wilson for the presidency as every true Democrat ought to be."

The governor and Speaker Clark shook hands and great applause. The crowd at the fair grounds in Springfield was so great that the governor's voice could not reach the outer extremity of the throng.

Taft and Teddy Sighed.

"Much thought about both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt," the governor said in his speech. "The governor said in his speech that of entire respect, but those gentlemen have been so intimately associated with the powers that have been determining the policy of this government for almost a generation that they cannot look at the affairs of the United States with the eyes of a stranger, and a changed condition of circumstances has arisen."

"Their thought is in close habitual association with those who have framed the protective tariff, have developed the trusts, have co-ordinated and ordered all the great economic forces of this country in such fashion that nothing but an outside force breaking in can disturb their domination and control. Therefore the Democratic party stands up in the presence of the gentlemen and says:

"We are not denying your integrity, we are denying your purpose, but the thought of the people of the United States has not penetrated to your consciousness.
You are willing to act for the people but are not willing to act through the people."

Many Aboard Train.

On the train from Springfield to St.
Louis and en route to Chicago tonight was a host of Democratic leaders. The governor's party never was so large before.

The governor at Springfield, Illinois, laid a wreath on the tomb of Lincoln. He was accompanied to the tomb by members of the supreme court of Illinois.

The governor and his party reached St.
Louis late today. After a motor ride to East St. Louis and a brief speech there, the governor went to the banquet of the Democratic Editorial Association of Missouri, and then to the Coliseum for a big meeting.

"T. R. Has Jacob's Tongue"

"The voice is that of Jacob though the touch may be that of Jacob, but we are not going to be touched," said Governor Wilson today in referring to Colonel Roosevelt and his plan for government regulation of trusts.

"When gentlemen proposing to exaltate monopoly" added the governor, "speak in the name of Lincoln, it is as if those who intend to perpetuate human slavery had dared to speak in the name of the great emancipator."

"I am trying to put Mr. Roosevelt in a hole" said Governor Wilson in referring to his declaration that the United States Steel company "was behind the third party program." I simply am trying to show that Mr. Roosevelt has the great confidence of the trusts and that we cannot afford to have a man president of the United States who has that viewpoint.

"It is a matter of perfect indifference to me where Mr. Roosevelt gets his money, but it is a matter of a great deal of difference to me where he gets his ideas.
And he got his ideas in regard to the regulation of monopolies from the gentlemen who control the United States Steel corporation."

"I am ready to admit that the steel corporation has a perfect right to enertain its own ideas about this and to urge them upon the people of the United States, but those ideas are not my ideas and I am certain that corporation could not promote my ideas which interferes with its monopolies."

Champ Missed Train.

Kansas City, Oct. 9.—A round of handshaking and a sudden change in Governor Woodrow Wilson's time of departure caused Champ Clark to miss connections at the Union station last night and the democratic delegation left Kansas City without the speaker.

Governor Wilson's party was slated to leave at 11 o'clock for Springfield, Illinois. Arriving at the depot the governor, tired from a strenuous day of campaigning, decided to go on the regular Chicago and Alton train that left at 10 o'clock.
Speaker Clark, unaware of the change in schedule remained behind shaking hands with admiring democrats. He took a later train.

Vote in Louisiana.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 9.—Complete returns tonight from the second primary yesterday for congressman in three districts of Louisiana, bear out the early indications last night. Walter Elder was nominated in the fifth district, represented now by Senator-elect Joseph E. Ransdell; Lewis L. Morgan, sixth, formerly represented by the late Robert C. Wickliffe and L. La-zar, seventh, the present congressman of which is A. J. Pujol, who did not present himself for another term.

PROMINENT MEN OF WACO

—Sketched from Life by Gilbert. Staff Cartoonist, Morning News.

James A. Loughridge came from Marlin to Waco twenty-three years ago; was in the employ of H. B. Mistrof & Co. and Wood Bros. for a number of years; associated for a while in business with W. J. Mitchell, and later a member of the firm of Wood Bros. & Co. Retired from this firm three years ago, and since then has conducted a prosperous business at 414 Austin street. He surrounded himself with competent, clever salesmen, and, by securing the agency of such lines as Hart Schaffner & Marx and "Alco" clothing and the best to be had in men's furnishings, his trade is of the highest class. Mr.
Loughridge has always contributed his share in time and money to every enterprise for the good of Waco. His genial personality and business integrity have won for him many friends, and there are few people in McLennan and Falls counties who do not know and speak in high terms of "Jim Loughridge."

From the minute "hisumps" cried
"Play ball!" at Boston yesterday the Waco Morning News began giving the results of play in minute detail. The movements of the diamond were announced from the balcony of the News building and hundreds of persons stood nearby to get every word. Persons in automobiles and in buggies, too, lined up and they enjoyed the game with enthusiasm second only to those fortunate enough to be at the game itself.

Fifteen minutes after the game had been called on extra of the Waco Morning News was on the street. In it could be found the individual plays and how each score as well as the hits and errors, were made. The report was received over special leased wires of the Associated Press, and complete in every detail.

Waco people can "witness" the re-

TEXAN KILLED; THREE INJURED

El Paso Residents in Wreck Near Mounds, Ark.—Rock Island Train
Is Derailed at Switch.

Memphis, Oct. 8.—A. C. McNeal of El Paso was killed and four persons were injured, two probably fatally, when the two rear cars attached to westbound Rock Island passenger train No. 41 split a switch, ran on to a sidetrack and crashed into a car of lumber near Mounds, Ark., today.

Of the injured, Mrs. A. C. McNeal and conductor M. J. Manly of Memphis will probably die. Miss Norma Rusthaupt and Mrs. E. J. Rigney, both of El Paso, are not thought to be seriously hurt.

The injured were brought to a local hospital aboard a relief train sent from this city. Railroad officials attribute the derailment to the breaking of a staff rod attached to the switch.

BROTHER GIVES TO TAFT FUND

CHARLES P. TELLS SENATE COM-MITTEE HE DONATED
$372,931.71.

$213,392.00 THIS YEAR

PRESIDENT HELPED BY KIN TO ESCAPE OBLIGATIONS.

HANNA QUIZZED BY PROBERS

Cleveland Testifies He Gave $177,000 to Roosevelt Fund Recently—Harriman Fund Is Questioned.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Charles P. Taft today told the senate committee investigating campaign funds that he contributed $158,333.33 to aid in electing his brother president in 1908, and that he had paid $213,392.41 this year toward the expenses of gaining the presidential renomination.

"Consulting a memorandum book, in which he had practically all the items he had ever spent for campaign purposes, Mr. Taft was on the point of telling the committee how much the nomination in 1908 had cost him, when Senator Clapp stated that the committee had no authority to investigate the pre-convention of that year, or funds used in the election now in progress. Mr. Taft said his object in going into the campaign was to see that if his brother was elected he should walk into the white house free of any monetary obligation to any individual, great interest or corporation.
"On this basis," he added, "I was prepared to go the limit. I believed my brother was admirably equipped for the position. I believed in his integrity, his fearlessness, and I believed no one could bulldoze or use him. The principal thing to be obviated was the influence of any candidate or monetary interest."

Hanna on Stand.

Dan R. Hanna of Cleveland, the backer of the Roosevelt forces in Ohio this year, followed Mr. Taft on the stand. He testified that he gave $177,- 000 to the support of the Roosevelt campaign for renomination this year.
Of this sum $50,000 went to the Roosevelt national committee, $50,000 to Walter F. Brown, manager of the Roosevelt Ohio campaign, and another $77,000 to the work of organization.

Expenses of the fight of Speaker
Champ Clark for the democratic nomination for the presidency were given by his manager, former Senator Ned T. Dubois, as $50,448.50. Senator Scott of West Virginia was the heavy-est contributor, giving $10,700, and William R. Hearst was the next with contributions amounting to $3500. The contributions to the original Clark fund were $45,548.50.

At the Baltimore convention, said
Senator Dubois, the Clark forces had a deficit of $4500, $3000 of which was made up by speaker Clark personally. These expense and account for the fact that Taft and Mr. Hanna were the last of the day.

The Harriman fund incident of 1904 occupied the morning session. Judge Robert Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, testified that the Harriman company had told him that President Roosevelt asked him to go to Washington in 1904, and asked him to assist in getting funds to aid the New York republican state campaign.

Former Senate Testifies.

Former Sen. Scott of West Virginia, connected with the national committee in 1904, said Chairman Cortey had declined his suggestion to go to "26 Broadway" for more money.
Senator Scott said he did not know of a previous contribution from a director of the Standard Oil company having been returned. He thought President Roosevelt had told him over the telephone that "Mr. Harriman is coming, and I'll see if we can raise some money for the New York fight."

Other witnesses included Matt Hale of Massachusetts, who said the Roosevelt primary campaign in that state this year cost $71,456.50, only $6852.70 of which was raised locally.
W. T. Mosheim of Fairbury, Ia., testified that $7,182.79 had been spent by the Taft club of Pittsburg for the campaign in Western Pennsylvania. C.
E. Warren of Detroit, who raised $18,- 935 for the Taft campaign in Michigan, W. B. Brown of Toledo, Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904.

Charles P. Taft testified that the $158,333.33 which the 1908 election cost him was but a part of what he offered to aid his brother in securing the election. He gave to Chairman Hitchcock of the national committee $177,000, of which Mr. Hitchcock returned $150,000 that it had not been necessary to spend in the campaign.

To H. A. Williams, who ran the Ohio campaign, he gave $44,926.15; to Arthur Vorya $1000 and for various other items $7495.75.

Of the total amount he gave Chairman Hitchcock $15,000 was spent for President Taft's expenses between the date of election and his inauguration
March 4, 1909.

The first $50,000 given to the Roosevelt fund was sent in currency

"Forward- the 'BRIGHT' Brigade!" GOLD DUST

Seldom has a national product made the instant and continued success achieved by Gold Dust. This wonderful powder was a success from the start, has continued to outsell and out-work all other products in its class, and is today (although it has hundreds of imitations) more of a seller and leader than ever. Gold Dust has always stood at the head of all cleansers, and its sales are yearly increasing. That's pretty good evidence of merit, isn't it?

Gold Dust will clean anything and everything about the house—and clean it in less time and with less labor than any other product. Here's a strong statement, the truth of which you can prove by buying and using one package of Gold Dust. We simply know that once you use Gold Dust, you'll never be without it.

from Cleveland to New York on the telephone authority of Mr. Hanna, who was in Aiken, S. C.

Mr. Hanna said he had no knowledge of the purposes for which the money went. "I can't give you any information," he said, "except that I don't think outside of the money I furnished, much was spent in Ohio."

Contributions to Speaker Clark's campaign fund as given by Senator Dubois came from many sources. Senator Dubois said the Baltimore convention cost the Clark forces $12,275; $4899 was spent in work of state organization; $3000 for speakers and $28,192.50 in expenses accruing at the Washington campaign headquarters.

Matthew Hale of Boston, manager of the Roosevelt primary campaign in Massachusetts, told the committee that the Roosevelt forces had spent $71,436.35.

W. T. Mossman, of Pittsburg, treasurer of the Taft Club of Pittsburg, gave the committee a statement showing receipts of $67,200, and expenditures of $20,148.20 in the Taft campaign in western Pennsylvania. The largest item of expenditure given by Mr. Mossman was to the anti-Maceo-Plynn committee for legal campaign expenses to elect Taft delegates, $28,500.

Summarized "Expenses." He summarized the expenditures for the pre-convention campaign this year as follows:

To Arthur I. Vorys for the Chicago campaign $64,800; to William B. McKinley for the national headquarters, $12,000; various items, $23,792.41; a total of $101,392.41.

OHIO JURIST CONFESSES.

George B. Nye Pleads Guilty to Charge of Bribery.

Columbus, O., Oct. 9.—With the confession of George B. Nye, a representative in the last state legislature, and his plea of guilty today, a long step toward clearing up the bribery scandal in Ohio is believed to have been taken.

Of the eleven indicted for alleged participation in bribery, Nye is the fifth convicted. His sentence was deferred. All devices of the modern detective were employed before arrests were made and sensations came rippling across the state.

According to Attorney General Hogan, was made to Nye Saturday. In it the legislator is said to have implicated other legislators and men "higher up."

TERRY TEXAS RANGERS

REUNION IS HELD AT ELGIN BY REMNANT OF THE OLD COMMAND.

Hon. Ed R. Kone, Commissioner of Agriculture, Makes Address to the Old Soldiers.

Elgin, Tex., Oct. 9.—There was a large attendance here today at the reunion of Terry's Texas Rangers, and the old soldiers found pleasure in the exchange of stories of former days.

Hon. Ed R. Kone, commissioner of agriculture, made an address today.

Fellow Citizens—I am proud of the prosperity of Texas, and I desire its material power and welfare to be expended to the utmost limit, but not at the diminution of the guiding influence of sentiment in the conduct of its affairs. Rather than that, I would have Texas become a second Sparta, valor in everything else and rich in valor, social virtue and patriotic devotion of its citizens. Our people have been dominated by sentiment more continuously and fully throughout their history than have those of any other land, and to this fact has been due the splendid record they have blazoned on the scroll of time.

Refers to Sentiment.

There has been no finer exhibition of sentiment than that which called you to the field of battle, nor than has caused you to assemble here today to trim the sacred fire that burns so long as life lasts on the altar of memory and friendship that occupies the holy of holies in every true heart.

The old soldiers I see before me are the remnant of a gallant band, all save whom have crossed the river and now rest under the shade of the trees in the paradise of the patriot's God, where no drum beat and clash of arms disturb the scene, but the sun of truth shines from an unclouded sky, and all who ever stood stoutly for the right find vindication and reward.

It has been established irrefragably in the forum of reason throughout the world that the southern states had both constitutional right and adequate cause to secede from the union and that no brave and self-respecting people could have failed to have adopted the same course under the same circumstances.

While this is true, it is now clear to nearly all minds that God did not intend that this republic should be broken into fragments by that struggle, but that it should remove every impediment to a really fraternal union, whose citizens should be indeed one people, and that should accomplish the mighty destinies intended for it.

War Was Forced.

The war was forced on the South. This Providence knew, and knowing, decreed that it should work this section no permanent harm, but immense and lasting benefits and that its statesmen and Confederate soldiers should be the guardians, defenders and enforcers of the most essential provisions and principles of the Federal Constitution as adopted and interpreted by Jefferson and Madison.

The war was worth all the blood and treasure it cost—worth it in the heroism it developed, the tangible results it attained, and the ideals it established.

So long as its influence lasts in any force, the citizens of this country can not become a decadent people, but the country will rise steadily from one plume of grandeur and glory to another.

The soldiers of the Confederacy were not defeated, except in the effort to make good secessions. They won in all else that was worth saving. Returning to their homes, they built them up from the ashes in which they were buried; fought and overcame military and radical rule; re-established honest, efficient local government by and for the people; held at bay first and then defeated in congress and the United States courts those who sought to trample the Constitution under foot and establish a centralized unbridled despotism, under which the South would have remained a conquered province ruled by corrupt aliens chosen by the votes of its former slaves.

All this you helped to do. None excelled you in war. None have surpassed you in peace. Ex-soldiers of the Confederacy, I salute you! Salute you, not as men who were vanquished, but as men who still loved for periling your lives at the command of your sovereign states, but as victors to whom we are indebted for the liberties we enjoy and the power to preserve them.

God bless you and yours, every one. May this day be a most happy one for you, and long and pleasantly remembered. May you be spared to have many such reunions. May Texas ever cherish and honor you. I thank you for the privilege of addressing you.

PREPARED FOR HOLDUP.

Armed Men Placed on Train—No Attempt Made.

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 9.—Officers of Haskell county, Okla., received information this afternoon that an effort was to be made to hold up and rob eastbound Midland Valley passenger train No. 33 en route from Muskogee to this city.

Five heavily armed men were placed aboard the train when it reached Stigler, Okla. Kanima was to be the scene of the hold-up. When the train reached that place among the crowd who boarded the train were five men, the leader of whom was readily recognized by the officers because of his criminal record. At Money Junction the officers went into the baggage car and the train proceeded to Fort Smith without interruption.

Shouts Stop Speaker.

While the colonel was replying to Governor Wilson's charge that the steel trust was behind him, a man in an automobile in front of the colonel stood up and, using his hands as a megaphone, shouted:

"That is not true."

"I suppose, sir," Colonel Roosevelt called back, "that you approve of their stand for lying and false witness."

"That is not so," the man shouted. The crowd was thrown into such an uproar by the incident that it was before Colonel Roosevelt could make himself heard.

"I don't know who you are," he called out, "but I am told you represent the coal trust. It is perfectly natural that you should object to the truth about your side of the campaign."

THREE ON RIOT CASE JURY

Ninety Veniemen Examined Pail to Qualify

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 9.—When the trial of the Grabow labor riot cases was adjourned this afternoon until tomorrow morning, three jurors were in the box. John Hagan and Albert Derouett accepted this forenoon, and S. W. Mack, a farmer, accepted this afternoon.

The ninety veniemen had been exhausted when adjournment was taken and Judge Overton ordered that fifty talesmen of the special of 150 ordered this forenoon by the court, to be summoned to appear tomorrow morning and the remaining 100, should the jury not be completed earlier, to appear Friday morning.

The court instructed that the 150 new talesmen should be secured from points as far distant as possible from the scene of the Grabow riot.

T. R. COMPARES WILSON'S WORDS

COLONEL DECLARES GOVERNOR IS TAKING ZIGZAG COURSE.

TEDDY REFERS TO HIS ACTS

Appeals to Working Men and Women to Support Progressive Party. Refers to Speeches.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 8.—Declaring that Woodrow Wilson opposed every effective means of helping the wage worker, Colonel Roosevelt appealed here tonight to the working men and women to support the progressive party. In the post, Colonel Roosevelt said, Governor Wilson had displayed "sullen hostility to labor," and said Governor Wilson had made a "sudden and violent retracting of his steps."

"As Mr. Wilson has seen fit to attack the progressive platform about labor, and, especially about organized labor," said the colonel, "I ask you to compare what I am saying on tonight with what I succeeded in getting congress to do during the time I was president with Mr. Wilson's utterances throughout the course of these years."

The colonel called attention to his messages to congress, declaring against convict contract labor, in favor of the eight-hour law and a working men's compensation. "With one united party behind him," he said, "he succeeded in having some of those measures enacted into law."

Say He Quotes Wilson.

"During these years ago again and again I quoted Wilson," Colonel Roosevelt continued. "Now, during those very years, Mr. Wilson also was speaking of labor from time to time. In an address at the People's Forum at New Rochelle, as given in the New York Tribune of Feb. 27, 1905, he says: 'The objection I have to labor unions is that they drag the highest man to the level of the lowest.'"

In an address before the South Carolina Society, as given in the New York Tribune of March 19, 1907, he says as follows: "We speak too exclusively of the capitalistic class. There is another as formidable an enemy to equality and freedom of opportunity, as it is and that is the class formed by labor organizations and leaders of the country—the class representing only a small minority of the laboring men of the country, quite as monopolistic in spirit as the capitalist, and quite as apt to corrupt and ruin our industries by their monopoly."

"At the commencement exercises of Princeton University, as given in the New York World of June 14, 1909, he says as follows:

"You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. The trades unions make the standard to which to conform. No employee is suffered to do more than the average workman can do. Our economic supremacy may be lost if the country grows more full of unprofitable servants."

"I am not questioning the sincerity of Mr. Wilson's change, but I wish to call attention to the fact that the extreme lateness of his conversion and its very imperfect nature do not warrant him in making any comment whatever on the progressive platform in this matter. Mr. Wilson, by a sudden and violent retracting of his steps, and in zig-zag fashion has nearly, but not entirely, reached as advanced a position as I took eleven years ago in my first message to congress. He is still high upon the ladder, but he is still a long way off."

A couple of days ago Mr. Wilson stated that the steel trust was behind me," said Colonel Roosevelt. "I answered that I had not challenged him to name any individual interested in steel except Mr. Perkins who was with me. Mr. Wilson comes out today and says all he meant was that the steel trust was behind me in thought. Evidently Mr. Wilson is a mindreader."

"If ever I make such a statement as I made about me and am called to account for it as I called him, if I can't make good, I'll say so and won't try to get out of it by saying I was speaking of thought of the adversary."

JAMES W. SMITH OF UNION NATIONAL BANK

TELLS HOW PLANT JUICE MADE A LONG VACATION UNNECESSARY FOR HIM.

Here is a letter that will be widely read as it comes from Mr. James W. Smith of the Union National Bank of Houston, one of the largest banking houses in the south: Plant Juice Co., City.

Gentlemen: I want to tell you what Plant Juice did for me. The character of my work, manager of the statement department of the largest local bank is of such a nature that I am continually on my feet, and this spring more than ever before, I felt debilitated, nervous and run down, with pains in my back, groins and limbs. Noting the prominent citizens of this city who have been benefited by Plant Juice, I decided to try it, and I want to tell you the results have been most satisfactory. I have entirely recovered after using one bottle and do not feel that I will have to ask for the long vacation that my condition earlier in the spring seemed to demand. If you feel that my influence or words will assist you in any way I have no objections to you using this letter.

Gratefully yours,

JAMES W. SMITH. Those who suffer with dizziness, spots before the eyes, numbness, cold feet, pains in the back and loins, rheumatism, or nervous debility, will find immediate and lasting relief in Plant Juice—try it; it will put new life and strength into you. For sale at Old Corner Drug Store.

REPUBLICAN SLIPS IN

OFFERS BEFORE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY AND GETS THE HIGH VOTE.

When His Politics Become Known the Executive Committee Throws Out His Vote—Now a Mandamus.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—There was submitted in the supreme court today the application of J. E. Dowse, county democratic chairman of Wilson county, vs. E. A. Stevens, district judge, et al, for mandamus. It is a case growing out of the last primary election and presents some new questions in the construction of the Terrill election law.

According to the record, Hugo Kott of Laverna, in Wilson county, offered for county commissioner in Wilson county and received the highest number of votes in the primary in his precinct, 105. The next man was W. A. Calloway, who received 87.

After the primary it was found that Kott was a republican and he admitted as much. County Democratic Chairman Dowse with his executive committee, proceeded to throw out the ballots for Mr. Kott and make Mr. Calloway the next highest man, the democratic nominee on the ground that Mr. Kott was a republican and was not entitled to a democratic nomination. District Judge Stevens granted a restraining order. The case will test the right to count out a man who goes in the primary and is afterwards found to be a member of another party.

Building Permits.

The following building permits were issued from the office of the city secretary yesterday:

A. L. Patterson, three rooms at the corner of Seventh and Bosque streets; estimated cost $1500. H. W. Smith, a gallery at 141 North Sixteenth street; estimated cost $1500.

$400,000 Fire at Denison.

Denison, Oct. 9.—The plant of the Industrial Cotton Oil company was destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. The scene being saved. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Insurance was carried in New York but the amount is not known.

office it is believed the attitude of the Balkan peoples leaves only the barest hope of the measures taken by the powers proving successful as any concessions made by the Balkan governments would threaten the security of the occupants of the throne of Bulgaria, Rofia, Montenegro and Greece. For this reason their governments dare not yield.

There was almost a repetition of the scenes which took place on "Black Tuesday" October 1 on the Bourse today under the conviction that a general war in the Balkans was inevitable. There was an all around fall from 2 to 5 points and the slump was checked only slightly before the close.

It is understood in authoritative circles here that Romania has taken the preliminary steps for the mobilization of her army. Nothing is known as to her intentions.

Airmen May Take Part.

Paris, Oct. 9.—Airmen belong to opposing armies are likely soon to come into conflict for the first time in actual war for all the Balkans as well as Turkey have a number of expert airmen, most of whom learned to fly in France. They also possess considerable aerial equipment. Turkey, for instance, recently acquired eight monoplanes in France, two in England and two in Germany, while others have been ordered by the Ottoman government in both England and Germany. Bulgaria owns one monoplane and three biplanes, and the war department in Sofia has just ordered additional machines from Germany. Greece possesses six French biplanes and one hydro-aeroplane. The Serbian army does not own any machines, but several of its officers are flying men.

TO RICE INSTITUTE OPENING

Dr. Brooks and Others from Baylor Leave for the Big Affair.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, accompanied by Dr. J. L. Keeler, dean of the college, and Dr. J. B. Johnson, professor of mathematics, left last night for Houston to attend the formal opening of Rice Institute, which will take place there today, tomorrow, and Saturday. Dr. Keeler goes as dean of the college. Dr. Brooks, in addition to representing Baylor, will be the representative of the American Peace League, and Dr. J. B. Johnson has been designated the special envoy of Yale University for this occasion.

A number of the leading educators of America, Europe and Asia are on the program and the Baylor representatives will remain through Saturday. Religious exercises Sunday will be conducted by Dr. Charles F. Aked, former pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, New York City.

BAYLOR GETS A BIG CHECK

Part of the Fund from General Education Board is Received.

With the receipt this week by E. R. Nash, treasurer of Baylor University, of a check for $7000 from the General Education Board of New York, the total sum of the paid-in endowment for Baylor reached $122,000. The board, headed by Mr. Rockefeller, sent $44,000 in May, making a total of $44,000 from that source. This sum is being paid on under the terms of the contract by which the board agreed to give $200,000 to the endowment provided the people of Texas should contribute $400,000.

The payments are to be made in proportions of $1 from the General Education Board to $2 by those who have subscribed to the Texas fund. This proportion will be maintained until the full $600,000, subscribed jointly is raised.

About $100,000 of the Texas fund falls due Nov. 1 and it is the desire of the university authorities to make large collections at this time.

SHOOTS WIFE, KILLS SELF.

Tragedy Occurs in Crowded Dining Room.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 9.—After creating a panic in the crowded dining room of a fashionable hotel here last night by firing two bullets into his wife's arm and two into his own heart, Bert Boulanger, of Montreal, died early today.

Mrs. Boulanger said she had left her husband because of cruel treatment and that he had followed her across the continent. Boulanger entered the dining room at midnight. "I want you to go with me," he shouted, pointing a revolver at his wife. Then he began firing. Tables were overturned as diners fled.

Mrs. Boulanger's condition today was not believed to be serious.

MISS MARY HAYWOOD GLOVER ENTERTAINED IN MUSKOGEE
The past few days finds Miss Mary Haywood Glover the guest of Mrs. Thomas in Muskogee, Okla. The occasion for the visit was that Miss Glover might participate in the gayety of the fair season for Muskogee. It is now heard that she has been more than cordially welcomed into the private social life of the city, and is prominent in all the gayety of the time.

WEBB-SPENCER WEDDING EVENT FOR TONIGHT
This evening Mrs. and Mr. R. H. Spencer will receive into their home on Fourteenth and Columbus the guests invited for the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Katherine Spencer, to Clyde Webb. This is an event of social note throughout the state. Some guests are already arrived and others are to come. The ceremony will be as private as this wide spread interest will allow.

NOTICE TO ALL PRESIDENTS FROM NEWS EDITOR
Now that all phases of woman's activity is resuming, a word from the editor is not amiss. This word is for each president to appoint some one whose duty it shall be to keep the editor informed as to when meetings will occur, the hour and the place, also a report from what transpires after the meeting takes place. This applies to every woman's organization in the city, church, fraternal, literary association, etc. It is only through this personal attention that all will receive full, prompt and accurate reports.

CALL FOR COLONIAL MINUET AT THE PHILO CLUB
Those who will dance the Colonial Minuet on the evening of October 11th at the Cotton Palace are requested to meet at the Philo club on Friday evening at 8 o'clock for assignments and instructions. The committee in charge is Mrs. George McLeod, chairman; Mrs. W. O. Wilkes, Mrs. Maud Cole and Mrs. Walter Fort. It is now expected that the auditorium floor will find some sets for this stately and beautiful dance. Powders and patches, wigs and knee breeches will be the order of costume.

MRS. J. W. BYARS HAS THE WOMAN'S PRESS CLUB
The report from the first meeting of the Press club for the new year is a full attendance and more interest over the course of study than has ever been. The Bible is appealing. There are several new members this season. These were welcomed into the club. Mrs. Temple Morrow as president has some business discussed and then the first program was given. The departure for Paris of Mrs. Roy Coleman creates the only vacancy, and there are applicants to take this. The only guest of the afternoon was Miss Sybil Sanderson.

BRIDGE WITH MRS. COLGIN. WHO IS CLUB HOSTESS
For the game of this week the members of the Tuesday Bridge were Mrs. Mrs. J. W. Byars, Mrs. M. E. Heights. This was a game of four tables with several present by the special invitation of Mrs. Colgin. The prize award was to Mrs. Harold Shear and to Mrs. Lewis Early. The next game will be with Mrs. Lee Dewey and members are reminded that the hour will be half after three o'clock. In addition to the club, Mrs. Colgin's guests were Mrs. William Edmond, Harold Shear, Luke Moore Jr., Walter Lacy and William Carroll.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB
The first session of the Woman's club, with Mrs. J. G. Kendall, opened a year which promises much by way of pleasure in study and social intercourse. The program as assigned and carried out, and the papers of Mrs. Black, Mrs. Carrington and Mrs. Boynton were up to the standard of former contributions to the club. Mrs. R. E. McKeon gave a special feature in voice numbers to the piano of Mrs. Ben Gray Kendall. The only discussion as to change in membership came with the resignation of Mrs. White, caused by her removal to Havana. She will be made honorary member, and the committee on nominations will doubtless have a successor to present at the next meeting. Altogether the Women's club begins its new year auspiciously.

SANGER SCHOOL MOTHERS HAVE ROUSING MEETING
The Tuesday afternoon session of the Sanger School Mothers' club was full of interest. This interest will be intensified when the thirty new mothers who enrolled to meet with the club in addition, each member now enrolled is pledged for two more before the meeting two weeks hence. Mrs. Lazenby was present and gave report of the combined meeting at the High school on Monday. The women are thoroughly aroused over the drinking proposition for the schools, and will not cease agitation until such are installed in all the schools. Mrs. P. R. Peck, who is already installed a system and paid for from the club funds. The women now propose to install a gas stove and have requested the privilege from the President. Those engaged in this is granted a cook will be engaged, and the women assigned to weeks at the noon hour. During this they will serve not only nourishing lunches to the pupils at a nominal sum. This will be something for the advantage of the child as well as a source of income, with which the club will carry on its work. Mrs. P. R. FOR SHAKSPEARE MEMBERS NOTICE FOR MEETING
It is now time for the reorganization of the Shakspeare club. An important meeting takes place on Monday afternoon with Miss Kate Friend. Members of the past year are requested to telephone Mrs. Leslie Stogal at the T. J. Lovelace residence and signify whether or not they will be members for the new year. Those who like to join the club for this study of the world's greatest master of the English language and the greatest delineator of human nature, Shakspeare, are hereby notified that the club accepts only voluntary applications. This is in order that strangers who might add materially to the club and who are desirous of belonging to a study club, may so signify. Especially is the Shakspeare club desirous of having women who were active in clubs before removing to Waco. These, however, must be endorsed by a present member of the club. The play will be "Winter's Tale". It is urged that present members notify Mrs. Stogal, as this relieves her of telephoning fifty women. It is also urged that all members who can be present at the first meeting since this is for the selection of new members for the club, also for deciding whether or not the hour for meeting be changed. A new president must be elected.

SMALL DINNER PARTY IN THE ROTAN HOME
The special pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rotan for Tuesday evening was to welcome into their home a party of congenial friends whom they had bidden to meet their expected guests, Dr. and Mrs. Drinker from Pennsylvania. Since Dr. Drinker is identified so prominently with educational work in the east, Mrs. Rotan bespoke first of all Dr. and Mrs. Brooks and Dr. and Mrs. Drinker. The home-grown rose was appropriately selected as the dinner decoration and favor, in that it gave to the eastern visitors the evidence of what the south had for floriculture. But the unexpected came. Dr. and Mrs. Drinker were detained away up in Kansas, and this detention hurried them on for the object of their coming to Texas, the opening of the Rice Institute in Houston. They reach Waco later. The dinner party was merry, it was entertaining, it offered choice cuisine, and it gave one of the picture tables which Mrs. Rotan knows so well how to arrange. Ten place cards were used, those being for Mrs. Ben Gray Kendall, Mrs. Charles Boynton, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hale, in addition to those mentioned.

THE MESDAMES BOGGESS HAVE MISS SPENCER
Tuesday evening was claimed by Mrs. N. E. Boggess and Mrs. Albert Boggess for having ante-nuptial courtesy to Miss Katherine Spencer. In order that this hour might be especially acceptable to this young girl, for whom everything in life is now so radiant, the wedding was extended principally to the immediate friends of the honoree. A few young married friends of the hostess gave the intimation that such a thing as marriage had been a good thing. This was a party which paid homage to the national flower, the golden rod, which is now at its zenith of brilliant bloom. The guests were introduced into the home of Mrs. Nannie Boggess. There was chatter in plenty, music by Mrs. R. B. McKeon and Miss Marceline Flanagan, and then appeared a black "mammy" with turban and apron (Miss Dixie Wood) to deliver to Miss Spencer the kitchen articles and the choice recipes which her friends had showered upon her. This was the leading feature of attention, and some tasteful as well as useful articles were admired for the bride's coming kitchen. A salad plate with dainties at the side, was the refreshment course. At least thirty-five enjoyed this last afternoon with Miss Spencer, who today becomes a bride.

Society Notes.

The women who expect to do their part must bear in mind that the contributions for the Wilson-Marshall campaign fund must be made before the fifteenth of October.

The resumption of work by the Round Table is the club session for this afternoon.

Every woman in Waco owes it to the social enterprise of her city to invite a guest for the Cotton Palace. This is what makes the attendance and the general impetus for exposition season.

It must be that a capable president saves the Art League. This body has done too much for artistic culture in our city for it to adjourn in default of a member who is willing to sacrifice self for the cause and hold the reins.

The Colonial bridge plays its first regular game and welcomes its two new members with Mrs. E. F. Drake on West Washington this afternoon. This is as it should be. It comes from Mrs. Clinton Padgett, who is in San Antonio. "Am talking up Cotton Palace here."

The women of St. Paul's congregation are all waiting social engagements in order that nothing may detract from attendance during the Mission which will begin in St. Paul's parish on the eighteenth of this month.

Today marks the marriage in Atlanta of Julian Prade. This is an event of social moment in Atlanta society.

Why do not the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Art League, the Eastern Star, the Daughters of Biondini, the Woman's club, the Round Table, in fact all the women's organizations of the city, rally around Woman's day for the Cotton Palace? Take some action and signify to Mrs. J. G. Kendall, who is already installed a system and paid for from the club funds.

The J. G. Wren home is closed while Mr. and Mrs. Wren spend a few days at Mineral Wells. They left on Tuesday.

After being closed for some weeks the Allan Sanford household will be reunited with this week. Mrs. Sanford is already returned from the east. Mrs. Charles Moore, who has

THE GOLDSTEIN-MIGEL CO.

HOUSTONITE "CON" GAME VICTIM.

Lawyer Fleeced of Over $300 by Clever Aligned Swindler.

Houston, Oct. 9.—The city detective force is bending every effort to apprehend one of the shrewdest swindlers who ever operated in this city and who is charged with the Houstonite "con" game. He is charged with the Houstonite "con" game. He is charged with the Houstonite "con" game.

Some days ago a man giving his name as C. J. Cutter presented himself at the lawyer's office and employed him to secure a divorce for him. The fee agreed upon was $50. The man turned over a draft drawn on an Oklahoma bank and payable to C. K. Cutter for $3240 to the attorney who after holding it several days and satisfying himself it was genuine cashed it, deducted his fee and turned the remainder over to his prospective client, who it is charged disappeared.

When the draft reached the Oklahoma bank it was rejected on the ground that it had fallen into improper hands and that the man who operated in Houston was not the Oklahoma C. K. Cutter. Attorney Heidensfelder it appears had all suspicions removed in the course of his dealings with the man and not until too late did he discover he had been victimized. Police in several distant cities have been advised to look for the alleged swindler.

MAN'S FATE WITH JURY.

Trial of Houston Individual on "White Slave" Charge Ends.

Houston, Oct. 9.—The fate of Montie O. Goodner, charged with violation of the white slave laws rests in the hands of a jury in the federal court.

Goodner is charged with taking a young woman with him from state to state ostensibly as his stenographer but in reality for immoral purposes.

He was arrested in San Francisco and brought to Houston where he had a family. But the young woman and Goodner on the witness stand denied any improper relations.

$2,000,000 TRUST PAID.

Mrs. Mary Eddy Willed Amount to Christian Science Church.

Boston, Oct. 9.—A trust estimated at $2,000,000, created by the will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church for the benefit of the denomination was declared valid by the Massachusetts supreme court today.

The court holds, however, that a charitable trust has been created and that new trustees may be appointed to administer it.

SECOND GAME OF SERIES TIE IN ELEVENTH IT IS CALLED

New York Comes to Life in Eighth With Three Runs and Chops Down Boston's Lead—Crowd "Wild."

BOTH TEAMS MAKE RUN IN FINAL

Darkness Then Interferes and Umpires Declare "Game Over."—Red Sox Take Lead at Opening With Three.

Boston, Oct. 9.—The second contest of the world's series between the Boston American League and the New York Nationals today went to a 11th inning tie, 6 to 6, when darkness put an end to the battle that kept 30,000 spectators on the edge of the keenest excitement throughout every inning. The contest will be played off tomorrow at Fenway Park.

With one victory registered from the Red Sox, Manager McGraw sent out his star twirler, Mathewson, to capture the second game for the Giants. Mathewson had been reated for about two weeks to win the first game he twirled, but tonight the Red Sox still were happy because of their one victory and no game lost with the dreaded Mathewson worn out with a hard-pitched game.

Tris Speaker, the Red Sox center-fielder, furnished the dramatic climax in the contest where fortune played fickle with first one and then the other team.

Locked at Ninth.

The ninth inning found the Red Sox and the Giants locked in a tie score of 5 to 5. The Red Sox left-handed, Collins, had been driven from the box in the eighth inning by a shower of hits and Hall had been sent to relieve him. Merkle smashed out a three-bagger in the tenth inning and the home club host was in gloom when he scored on a sacrifice hit.

In the fading light it was difficult for the Red Sox to follow the course of Mathewson's big drop and New York felt confident.

Yerkes had been turned back and the big crowd looked to Speaker. The trio of giant outfielders moved first, then second and raced to third. The ball caromed to Shaffer, who momentarily juggled it. Speaker hesitated at third, then sped for the plate and slid under catcher Wilson, who fumbled Shaffer's relay throw. That tied the score and the crowd went wild. To make sure that he had touched the plate, Speaker returned and touched the plate a second time before Wilson recovered the ball.

Red Sox fans were loath tonight to give the Giants credit for a game fight.

The Bostonians took the lead in the first inning and scored three runs by hitting Mathewson hard, but the Giants, undismayed, fought back and by pepping away at Collins' delivery, picked up a run in the second and another in the fourth inning. Boston tallied another score in the fifth inning but New York was not to be denied and, when Duffy Lewis dropped Snodgrass' fly at the opening of the eighth inning, they started a hat-trick by the Red Sox.

Fans Disappointed.

Three runs already were over the plate on an error, a single and two doubles. This gave New York a lead of one run. The Giants held their lead but a moment, however, for the Red Sox attacked Mathewson's drop curves savagely and aided by an error by Fletcher, the tying run was sent over the plate. Then came the speaker's mighty smash to the center-field fence.

Fletcher "Peeved."

Fletcher was broken-hearted tonight over his poor game at shortstop for New York. Two of his three glaring errors aided materially in the making of runs by the Red Sox.

Wagner started at shortstop for Boston, accepting ten chances and executing a brilliant play in the ninth inning, when, on the dead run, he speared Fletcher's grounder with his gloved hand, turned and, with a rifle-shot throw that Stahl also took with one hand, nailed Fletcher at first base.

Much Stealing.

There was an unusual lot of base stealing in the game for a world series contest, five bags being pilfered. Of these Hooper stole two and Stahl one, (for the Red Sox), while Snodgrass and Herzog each beat Carrigan's throws.

Hooper, for the Red Sox, had a field day. He knocked out three hits, stole two bases, scored once and gathered in three flies in the outfield. Murray and Herzog were the heavy hitters for the Giants. Murray duplicated his telling work of yesterday with the stick by hammering out a single, a double and a triple. Herzog also got a single, two bager and a three-base hit and sent out a sacrifice fly opportunity. Mathewson's control was perfect. He didn't issue a base on balls, and fanned four men. Doyle played a scintillating game at second for New York.

"We have stopped the Red Sox on their home grounds," said Manager McGraw tonight, "and the team is very well satisfied. We have shown them the giants were game and that gameness is going to count a great deal more before the series is over."

The Red Sox have always felt that Mathewson was the one man to beat," said Manager Jake Stahl. "I think today's game, while it did not end in a victory, shows that we can hit the New York twirler, whose work today must have tired him out."

Boston handled the big crowd without trouble. With the exception of a few spots in the outfield every seat was taken. Tickets brought three times the regular price of $3 for the grandstand. The total paid attendance today was 30,148 with total receipts of $58,369, of which the players' share was $11,519.75 and each club received $18,506.42. The National Commission's share was $5834.90.

There was just as much ceremony in starting the game today as there was in New York yesterday, with the added feature of several hundred Red Sox rooters marching into the grandstand behind a brass band playing.

Umpire "Silk" O'Loughlin announced that a ball that went into a temporary stand that extended along the left-field bank would count for a two-base hit, and a drive into the stands in center and right fields would go for a home run.

Manager Jake Stahl having elected to send Ray Collins, a left-hander, in to do the twirling, the make up of the Giants' batting order was in doubt until the various players actually took their turn at bat. Snodgrass was the first batter up. There was a cheer when Collins served up the first strike, but the next ball pitched the outfielder knocked the ball into the bleachers for two bases. This put Collins in a hole right at the start, but he was right on his task and turned Captain Doyle back to the bench as his first strike-out victim. Doyle had tried hard to put Snodgrass on third, but Collins' curves fooled him. Becker, who went into the game because Collins doesn't take kindly to left-hand pitching, was an easy out, Yerkes to Stahl, Snodgrass going to third. Murray also failed to reach first by rolling a grounder to Collins, who tossed the ball to first.

First Inning.

New York: The first ball was a strike. Snodgrass drove the second ball pitched in the bleachers for a two-bagger. Doyle struck out. Collins used three wide sweeping curves to turn the New York batter back. Becker went out, Yerkes to Stahl. Yerkes handled Becker's grounder cleanly. Snodgrass on third.

Time was called until the umpire could clear the field of photographers. First ball on Murray was a strike and the crowd cheered.

Collins threw out Murray at first base, no runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston: Hooper scratched an infield hit. Mathewson only being able to knock down the ball which he could not recover in time. This started the Boston fans cheering. Hooper stole second. Meyers threw wide. Fletcher dropped Yerkes' line-drive and the batter was safe at first. It was a miserable error by the New York shortstop. Speaker beat out a bunt and the bases were full with none out. The crowd broke into a continued cheer. Mathewson put the first one over on Lewis as a strike. The second ball pitched was a strike. Hooper was forced out at third plate on Lewis' grounder to Herzog, who threw to Meyers. Yerkes scored on an infield out of Gardner's. The play was Mathewson to Doyle to Merkle, the ball bounding off Mathewson's hand, thereby giving the pitcher an assist. Lewis and Speaker scored on Stahl's hot drive to left. Wagner went out on a high fly to Doyle. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Second Inning.

New York: Merkle fanned on the first three balls pitched. Herzog knocked a three-bagger to right. Herzog scored on Meyer's hit, which struck Gardner in the face. Gardner rubbed his head and seemed pretty badly shaken up, but he continued to play. Fletcher sent up a fly to Hooper and was out. Mathewson was given an ovation by the crowd as he went to the bat. Meyers was out when Yerkes took Mathewson's grounder to Wagner and threw to Wagner. One run, two hits, no errors.

Boston: Carrigan went out. Herzog to Merkle. Doyle made a brilliant play when he took Collins' grounder and threw him out at first. Hooper doubled to right. Yerkes was out, Fletcher to Merkle. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.

New York: Snodgrass flied out to Hooper. Collins used a fast breaking curve over the corner of the plate, his drop ball being very effective. Doyle was out on a foul to Gardner. Becker went out, Wagner to Stahl. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston: Speaker led off and went out to Merkle unassisted. Merkle knocked down Speaker's drive, which was labelled for a two-bagger. Lewis sent up a high one to Murray and went back to the bench. Gardner went out, Doyle to Merkle. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

New York: Murray got a three-bagger to right. Merkle was out on a high foul to Gardner. Murray scored on sacrifice fly of Herzog to Speaker. Meyers singled to left. Wagner only being able to knock down the ball. Fletcher flied out to Hooper. One run, two hits, no errors.

Boston: Stahl struck out. Mathewson served him with a drop ball. Wagner was out on a fly to Murray. Fletcher took Carrigan's grounder and threw him out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

New York: Mathewson was a strikeout and Carrigan dropped the third strike. Threw the New York pitcher out at first. Snodgrass also fell a victim to Collins' wilds and fanned. Doyle flied to Lewis. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston: Collins fanned. The crowd cheered. Hooper, who had already made two hits, Hooper singled to center. It was his third. The sun came out brightly at this point and Snodgrass exchanged places with Murray, who went to left field. Snodgrass going to right. Hooper stole second. Meyers threw being too low for Fletcher. Hooper scored on Yerkes' three-base hit to right center. The stands were in an uproar. Speaker flied out to Fletcher. Yerkes before he could return to the bag. It was a quick double play. One run, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.

New York: Snodgrass out. Hooper to Stahl. Murray singled to right. Merkle flied out to Speaker. Murray was out stealing second. Carrigan to Wagner. The runner was touched five feet off the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston: Fletcher fumbled Lewis' grounder

MARSHALL FLAYS TEDDY.

Indiana Governor Names Perkins as the Colonel's Backer.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 9.—"Until a man has had some actual experience with the numerous movements of the trusts, he cannot understand the menace they are," declared Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, in an address here today.

He made special mention of the Harvester organization of which Geo. W. Perkins is said to be one of the principal stockholders and who is alleged to be the financial backer of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign. The governor declared the Harvester trust had fixed their machines so that prison-made binding twine could not be used in them and that according to the warman of the Indiana penitentiary, even a trip to Guatemala was contemplated to get control of the raw material.

Governor Marshall was greeted by one of the largest audiences during his present speaking tour of the state. He devoted the major portion of his address to the tariff, saying that high duties had resulted in enhancing the price of articles purchased by the laboring man and at the same time fostered free trade in labor.

Texas Authors Land Nice Contracts in the Adoption—Physiology and Hygiene Are Up Friday.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The state textbook board today completed the adoption of arithmetic and will Friday vote on books dealing with physiology and hygiene. The arithmetic contracts are, as yet, unclassified by some of the second largest contract, by some the third largest contract.

For regular arithmetic the Sutton and Bruce arithmetic, published by D. C. Heath and Company of New York and Chicago, was adopted by a vote of eight to three. Four mental arithmetics, the Hopkins and Underwood mental arithmetic, published by the Macmillan Company of New York, was adopted.

For use of teachers only, in the first and second grades, First Journeys in Numberland by Scott Foresman and Company of New York and Chicago was adopted.

The authors of the regular arithmetic are W. S. Sutton, professor of education in the University of Texas, and a resident of Austin, and W. H. Bruce of Denton, president of The North Texas State Normal. The authors of the mental arithmetic are John W. Hopkins, superintendent of the Galveston schools, and P. M. Underwood, teacher of mathematics in the Ball High School at Galveston. The authors of the First Journeys in Numberland are Ada Van Slon, Illinois, assistant superintendent of kindergartens and primary schools of Richmond, Va., and Lillian McLean Wald of Rochester, New York, formerly supervising critic of the Training School for Teachers.

The regular price of the first book of The Sutton and Bruce series is 22c, exchange 11c; second book, regular price 42c, exchange 21c. The regular price of the mental arithmetic is 22c, exchange 11c. The regular price of First Journeys in Numberland is 32c, exchange price 15c.

MACMILLAN CO.'S GEOGRAPHY.

Big Contract Is Awarded by Text Book Board.

Austin, Oct. 9.—The Macmillan Co. was awarded the National Exchange Insurance & Trust Company contract by the text book board. The contract is classified by some book men as the second and by some the third largest book contract awarded. The books adopted are the World Geography, first and second series, written by Ralph S. Tarr, a late professor of physical geography in Cornell University, and Frank K. McMurry, professor of elementary education in Columbia University. The regular price of the first book is 48c, exchange price 24c; the second is 88c, exchange 44c.

The board at once took up the study of arithmetics and hopes to be able to make a selection Wednesday afternoon.

On the first ballot in the adoption of geographies the vote was six for the Macmillan books, known as the Tarr and McMurry series, three for the Frye geography, tendered by Ginn & Co. on the King geographies, offered by Scribner & Sons, and one for the Dodge geographies, offered by Rand McNally & Co. The vote being: Cunningham, Frye by Ginn & Co.; Dodge, Tarr and McMurry; Evans, Dodge, Garrison, Tarr and McMurry; Kadanka, Frye; Little, Tarr and McMurry; O'Shea, Frye; Urban, Tarr and McMurry; Bailey, Tarr and McMurry; Governor, Cunningham, Kadanka and O'Shea voted for Frye, and all other members for Tarr and McMurry. The board settled the matter on revision consisting of Superintendent Bradley, Garrison and O'Shea was appointed. Numerous changes will be requested.

On the second ballot, Cunningham, Kadanka and O'Shea voted for Frye, and all other members for Tarr and McMurry. The board settled the matter on revision consisting of Superintendent Bradley, Garrison and O'Shea was appointed. Numerous changes will be requested. Governor Colquitt will insist that Texas be given better representation than has been given in any of the books submitted. He said he would have favored Maury's geography had it been submitted. He said the same. Frye's geography was militated against on the fact that Ginn & Co. had been awarded the reader's contract. Then, too, the charge had been made that Ginn had been sold to Indiana for 75 cents, while the bid here was 85c.

FOR THE AUSTIN MOVEMENT.

Governor Selects the Inscription for Tablet for Father of Texas.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—Governor Colquitt today selected the following inscription to be placed upon the tablet over the sarcophagus of the Stephen F. Austin monument in this city: "Stephen Fuller Austin, the Father of Texas, born in Wyothe county, Virginia, November 3, 1782, and died in Brazoria county, Texas, December 27, 1826. Wise, gentle, courageous and patient, he was the founder of a mighty commonwealth."

Mere Typhoid.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—It has been necessary for the laboratory of the State Health Department, under supervision of Dr. Henry Hartman, to manufacture another supply of the typhoid serum. Of late demand for it has been very heavy. Kosse in Limestone county, Lockhart in Caldwell county, Bartlett in Williamson county, and Lindale in Smith county, all getting good supplies.

Candidate for Speaker.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—Dan Watson of San Marcos, candidate for speaker of the House of the Thirty-Third Legislature, was here today on departmental business. He is just out after a severe attack of typhoid fever. He was accompanied by N. K. Paris.

To Commute Death Sentence.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The board of pardon advisors have made a report favorable to commuting the death sentence against Jim Rainer, a Hill county negro, to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. He is charged with having killed his wife. Action from the governor is expected tomorrow.

AUSTIN NEWS NOTES.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—Attorney general's department today approved for registration $32,000 City of York sewer bonds, twenty-forties at five per cent. Approval was also given to $500 Cass county common school district No. 20 bonds, twenty-forties at five per cent.

NO "PEDDLER" CARS

DILLARD EXPECTS THE STATE COMMISSION TO ACT SOON ON PROTEST.

Waco's Fight Against an Unfair Competition Is Being Watched With Interest by the State.

With the open denunciation of the "peddler cars" from some of the railroads and with the fight being waged by officials of the Waco Freight Bureau expressions of hope that the state railroad commission will act soon and abolish such deliveries being made in Waco.

We feel certain that something will be done by the commission soon, stated Traffic Manager Dillard of the freight bureau. "Every point has been advanced and we have been endeavoring to show how unjust peddler cars are to the local merchants who deserve protection because they give the people value for their money and turn back much of the money received for taxes and the upbuilding of the city."

DALLAS BANK IS PURCHASER

Guaranty State Institution Buys 25 Feet of Land for Consideration of $77,500.

Dallas, Oct. 9.—D. E. Waggoner, president of the Guaranty State bank, announced today the purchase by that institution of twenty-five feet of land on the north side of Main street occupied by the Elite restaurant. Tom Angus was the grantor and received $77,500 for his property. The Angus property addition on the west the property recently purchased by the Guaranty State bank from W. D. McMillan for $155,000. The bank now has secured seventy-five feet of land in the heart of the business district at a cost of $110,000 per front foot.

Mr. Waggoner said this afternoon that the bank may not built for several years, but the purchases were made at this time because of the rapidly advancing values of Dallas real estate. Eventually it is expected that a great skyscraper will go up on the property.

Mr. Angus recently purchased the Elite restaurant property for a sum approximating $72,000.

MANSE NEARING COMPLETION

In Couple of Weeks It Will Be Ready for Occupancy.

The new manse of the Second Presbyterian church which is being erected on part of the church lot near the corner of Twelfth and Jefferson streets, is now assuming a finished appearance from the exterior.

The frame work has been completed and the outside of the building almost finished, work now being done on the interior. Within two weeks the pastor, Rev. J. J. Grier, will occupy his new home. The manse is shaded by large trees along the sidewalk and will be one of the most completed houses in the city when completed.

HONOR SYSTEM MAKES GOOD

Pennsylvania, Too, Finds Convicts Respond to Humane Treatment.

The principles of reformation underlying the plan of the new state penitentiary to be erected on the site of land three miles southeast of this place, are being splendidly exemplified by thirty prisoners now engaged at the work of preparing the building, says a dispatch to the Philadelphia American. These prisoners, brought from the western penitentiary at Allegheny, five weeks ago, and are now engaged at outside work under the "upon your honor" plan that John Francis, the warden, hopes to see work out in the new penitentiary.

It is the purpose to give to every man who shows himself worthy of the confidence work out doors, within the walls of the institution. This rule will apply to the grades of prisoners who are not sentenced to solitary confinement, or for crimes of a character that would preclude taking any risk with them.

The thirty men who are engaged in the construction of the new penitentiary are in the big old farm houses that are on the state tract. It is besides the prisoners' quarters, are the executive offices of the penitentiary.

When the men were brought to Bellefonte from Allegheny they were taken from the train a little outside of the town. Each man carried a basket or bundle with his extra clothing to the country and to the buildings at the penitentiary site prepared for them. In less than two weeks something occurred to try out the honor standard, but every man of the thirty proved himself worthy of Francis' confidence and made no effort to escape.

The incident was the burning of a large barn on the penitentiary property, in which the stock was housed. The structure was set on fire by a stroke of lightning and burned rapidly. There was a very little help at hand, and the warden tried to have the prisoners to the work of saving the cattle and other stock. There was great excitement during the fire, and any man of the thirty might have escaped had he tried. When the call was sounded to return to their own quarters, every man reported promptly, and every one showing the pride he felt at being accorded a chance to test his honor.

WOMAN, 21, EX-CONVICT.

Relation Story of Unhappy Marriage Which Led to Crime.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Maud Wilbur brought here from Columbus, Ohio, by detectives, told today of robbing some of the biggest stores in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago, according to State's Attorney Weyman. Alvin Karpis, 21 years old, the woman is said to have compressed into two years more daring exploits than occur to the average woman criminal in a lifetime. She said she is a graduate of the Syracuse, N. Y., high school and received further educational training in Ottawa, Ont., convent.

"They say the wages of sin is death," she said today, "but I have found that the wages of sin is hell. As a girl I was cast adrift and forced to earn my own living.

"I got work in a department store and discovered that I either had to steal to get the money I needed or accept the proffered friendship of men inside and outside the store. The wages I was able to earn amounted to a grim joke. As against the men, I chose to become a thief."

THIRD CIVIL APPEALS MAKES IMPORTANT CONSTRUCTION OF RULES AS TO COST BONDS.

Rights of Cities to Enact Closing Hour Law as to Pool Rooms Is to Be Tested.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The Third Court of Civil Appeals in the case of S. W. Booker vs. J. D. Coulter from Tom Green county today made an important construction of the rules of the supreme court with regard to the filing of motions to dismiss appeals on cases before the appellate court. In the particular case the transcript was filed April 4, 1912. The case was set for submission October 5. On October 5, the appellee's counsel filed a motion to dismiss the appeal on the ground that the bond for costs was not double the amount of the costs as the law requires. The clerk of the court asked the court whether or not the motion to dismiss the appeal should be filed.

The probable amount of the costs was estimated at $300 and the appeal bond was made in that sum. The court of civil appeals found that rule 8 of the supreme court requires all motions relating to informalities in bringing a case into court shall be filed within thirty days after filing the transcript in the court of civil appeals and that unless this is done, all objections with regard to these minor points shall be considered waived. Under rule 9, motions for dismissal of appeal for want of jurisdiction to try cases shall be made within the same length of time, but if they are made afterwards the motion may be entertained by the court under such terms as it may deem just and proper.

The court held that under rule 8 the motion for dismissal of the appeal came too late. If rule 9 applied, the motion should be entertained and the appeal dismissed unless the appellee files a new bond correcting the defect within a reasonable length of time. But rule 9 is limited to matters relating to jurisdiction of the appellate courts. Rule 8 applies when it is not a case of jurisdiction. The bond was found to be in proper shape and under the law a defect in bond may be cured. It is not considered proper to dismiss an appeal until reasonable time is allowed for this perfection. It was held that the motion to dismiss the appeal came too late and should not be filed—that the appellee had the right to require a larger bond but that he waived that right by not objecting sooner. The bond made was sufficient to confer jurisdiction on the appellate court.

CLOSING GLAW FOR POOL ROOMS.

Right of Cities to Be Tested in Criminal Appeal.
Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The right of cities to enact ordinances closing pool rooms at any certain hour is to be tested out in two cases submitted in the court of criminal appeals today. The cases are styles ex parte J. Brewer and ex parte George Fuchs and test the Dallas city ordinance making the closing time of pool rooms the same as that for the saloons. The contestants aver that the ordinance is unconstitutional in that it conflicts with the state law upon the same subject. Reid Williams and Horace Williams of Dallas presented the case for the relators on oral argument.

Third District Appeal.
Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The following proceedings were had today in the court of civil appeals, third district:
In the case, S. W. Booker vs. J. D. Coulter, from Tom Green, the court filed an opinion on the question as to whether the clerk should file a motion therein, holding that the motion came too late. Rehearing refused—J. A. Nichols vs.

ONE JURY SEAT VACANT.
Procedure of Becker's Trial Is Without Headway.
New York, Oct. 9.—The jury for the trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, accused of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, still was incomplete at the close of a tedious examination today of more than seventy witnesses. Although two more jurors were selected, they took the places of jurors No. 8 and No. 11, who earlier in the day had been excused because of illness in their families.

The net result of the day's proceedings was that the jury box still had one seat vacant when Justice Goff was obliged to adjourn court until tomorrow, because the panel of talesmen became exhausted. The two new jurors were Charles R. Rauchman, real estate dealer, and Alfred Felheimer, an architect.

50000 BANK ROBBERY.
Financial Institutions Building Gives Up Big Loot.
Enid, Okla., Oct. 9.—The third job bank robbers have made in northern Oklahoma in the last twenty-four hours came to light today with the announcement that $50,000 had been secured from the Keystone State Bank, Keystone, Pawnee county, last night.

Details were lacking. The state bank at Kremlin, twelve miles north of here, and another at Douglas eighteen miles southeast, were entered during the night of October 7, but secured no loot, although fixtures were wrecked and the vaults damaged. The authorities are investigating.

PUBLISHERS ARE TO TEST LAW

Federal Rule That Newspapers Issue Circulation Figures Declared Unconstitutional by Some.

New York, Oct. 9.—Suit to test the right of the government to enforce the federal law of August 24, 1912, requiring newspapers and periodicals to publish their circulation figures twice a year and imposing other publicity requirements, was filed in the United States district court here today by the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin Company, publishers of the Journal of Commerce.

That portion of the law which directs that all printed matter for which compensation is received shall be labeled "advertisement" is also attacked. The suit is directed against Postmaster General Hitchcock, Attorney General Wickersham, United States District Attorney Wise and Postmaster Morgan of New York. The petitioner charges the law is unconstitutional and prays for a temporary injunction restraining its enforcement until final adjudication.

Back of the action, according to Robert C. Morris, of counsel for the complainant, is the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. The association decided recently to file a test suit and the Journal of Commerce, Mr. Morris said, in filing its petition had the sanction and co-operation of the association. The petition alleges there are upwards of 25,000 newspapers and periodicals in the country affected by the law. It charges that the law is void because it violates the federal constitution and particularly the first and fifth amendments, and abridges the freedom of the press. The law is characterized as of no benefit to the postoffice or any other department of the government, inasmuch as obedience by the periodicals and newspapers would not aid or assist in the operation of the postoffice department or in the carrying of the mails or the regulation thereof.

ONE JURY SEAT VACANT.
Procedure of Becker's Trial Is Without Headway.
New York, Oct. 9.—The jury for the trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, accused of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, still was incomplete at the close of a tedious examination today of more than seventy witnesses. Although two more jurors were selected, they took the places of jurors No. 8 and No. 11, who earlier in the day had been excused because of illness in their families.

The net result of the day's proceedings was that the jury box still had one seat vacant when Justice Goff was obliged to adjourn court until tomorrow, because the panel of talesmen became exhausted. The two new jurors were Charles R. Rauchman, real estate dealer, and Alfred Felheimer, an architect.

50000 BANK ROBBERY.
Financial Institutions Building Gives Up Big Loot.
Enid, Okla., Oct. 9.—The third job bank robbers have made in northern Oklahoma in the last twenty-four hours came to light today with the announcement that $50,000 had been secured from the Keystone State Bank, Keystone, Pawnee county, last night.

Details were lacking. The state bank at Kremlin, twelve miles north of here, and another at Douglas eighteen miles southeast, were entered during the night of October 7, but secured no loot, although fixtures were wrecked and the vaults damaged. The authorities are investigating.

Wedding This Afternoon.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hardy on North Eleventh street will occur the wedding of Ernest LeBeau of Texarkana and Miss ArVina Stiff. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Hardy, and a few friends of the family were at the home last night for dinner with the bride party. After the wedding they will go at once to Texarkana, where they will make their home.

Looking at Palace Grounds.

Members of the Cotton Palace directorate spent part of yesterday afternoon on the grounds, going through the various buildings and noting the progress of the work in the various departments. The members of the board were much pleased with the work as it now stands and are confident that everything will be in readiness by the opening day. No changes in the plans, as heretofore outlined, were made as the result of the meeting yesterday. The next meeting will probably be held on Monday night.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

SCHEDULE FOR EXAMINATIONS HAS BEEN RECEIVED BY DEAN BATTLE. 1f

Choice Is Made from General Make-Up of the Candidates—Is to Be Held October 15. 1f

Austin, Tex., Oct. 9.—The schedule of examinations for the Rhodes scholarship honors has been received by Dr. W. A. Battle, dean of the faculty of the University of Texas. As outlined, two days will be given to the examination of candidates for the scholarship, which pays to elected honorees a salary of $1500 per year for three years while completing the course at the University of Oxford in England. 1f

Since the recent bequest of Cecil Rhodes, the South African multi-millionaire, there has been a large number of candidates each year for the honors. The examination papers sent out from England embrace 12 hours of examination in various subjects on two successive days—chosen this season as October 15 and 16. 1f

The sealed examination papers are sent out several days before the examination, date from the office of the commissioner of education in Washington, and these are to be opened only on the day of the trials. All completed examination papers are sealed and returned to the committee in whose hands

SCHOOL BOARD BARS REPORTERS

MONDAY'S MEETING THE FIRST ADMITTING NEWSPAPER MEN SINCE 1893.

LATTIMORE FILES A PROTEST

Does Not Want to Discuss Individuals and Discipline If Outsiders Are Present—Views of Board.

WHAT DOES WACO THINK?

A representative of the Waco Morning News, Wednesday afternoon, was requested to leave the meeting of the city school board. The request was courteous. The newspaper man offered to retire, if desired, when the board discussed the qualifications of teachers. He was told, and it is commonly known, that the board's policy is to hold executive sessions.

Until this paper's reporter attended the school board meeting last Monday, when the Mothers' club entered its protest against school drinking water barrels, no newspaper has been permitted to be present at a board meeting since 1893.

The Waco Morning News seeks to give its readers every local item worth printing. The Waco school board is the only body of its kind in Texas that holds closed meetings. This paper is unwilling to print an account of its doings prepared, edited or given out by the school superintendent or board officials. It wants the news.

It also believes Wacans want school news, particularly the parents and teachers and taxpayers. The editor invites written expressions from parents, taxpayers and citizens generally, of their opinions as to this policy of their school board. This is an earnest and genuine effort to obtain the views of the community. Is it proper, just or expedient? The editor would also be glad to print the school board's own answer to that question.

This paper will print all suitably written opinions that are signed with the writer's full name and address.

This is the "year of grace" 1912. This is a city school board, not a senate. Is Waco interested? What does Waco think?

Following the discussion which was precipitated by Superintendent J. C. Lattimore by the presentation of a written protest to the school board against the presence of a reporter for a newspaper, or any outsider for that matter, the school board announced its policy yesterday to be to hold closed sessions, and the representative of the Waco Morning News was invited out of the meeting, the closing of the meeting to the public however, being courteously put.

A representative of the Waco Morning News attended the meeting of the school board Monday afternoon, remaining for three hours during the closed session. It was stated yesterday afternoon that it is the only time a reporter for a newspaper has been present at a meeting of the Waco school board since 1893.

Before presenting his written protest to the board, Superintendent Lattimore said: "I desire to read a request to the board, and I wish to say that I am perfectly willing to state my position in the presence of Mr. Quarles, and would so state it, no matter what outsider was present."

Mr. Quarles then read the protest, the representative of the Morning News.

Mr. Lattimore's Protest.

Mr. Lattimore then read the following: "Gentlemen: If it is to be your policy in the future to allow persons of no official connection with the board of education to be present during the board meetings, I must respectfully request you to excuse me from participating in discussions involving the qualifications of teachers now in the corps or those applying for positions in our schools. I also ask for the same privilege in cases of discipline, that may be brought before the board. As these discussions involve the acts and personal characteristics of individual teachers, pupils and patrons and as the obligations of the board to guard most carefully all that affects the character and reputation of individuals is so fully realized by each of you, I do not deem it necessary in making this request to go more fully into details. Trusting that you will grant this request, I have the honor to remain, most respectfully yours,

J. C. LATTIMORE, Superintendent Waco Public Schools.

Mr. Brazelton said he believed that Mr. Quarles would exercise proper discretion in reporting the meetings, but that he might retire while the qualifications of teachers were being discussed.

Present as a Reporter.

Mr. Quarles stated to the board that he came to the meeting as a reporter for the Waco Morning News, just as he attended the meeting of the city commission and the water commission; that since he had returned to Waco he had been asked by citizens why the school board was not reported in detail as other public commissions are and that he had been advised by some of the readers of the Morning News that they would like to see the school board reported so the people could know more of what the schools are doing. He said he had no desire to publish matter affecting the character of individuals, and would be willing to retire when such discussions were had, although he had been present at meetings of the city commission when discussions relative to the qualifications of men were being had.

Mr. Morrison—There has been absolute freedom since I have been a member of the board in all discussions of school matters. We cannot time these discussions, so as to have them with the reporter absent, nor can we have him rushing in and out when we want to take up these things. I have all the confidence in the world in the discretion of Mr. Quarles. I have known him always. I think, however, that Mr. Lattimore's position is correct.

Mr. Lattimore—At the meeting Monday I said things before Mr. Quarles that I would not repeat to my wife.

Dr. Morrison—Mr. Quarles is not a member of the board and I don't believe it wise to have a reporter present.

Judge West's Views.

Judge West, president of the board—

Three or four months ago a reporter for this same paper came to me and asked if a reporter would be admitted. I told him a reporter had never been present at our meetings. I cannot conceive how we can do business here and have a reporter present. It would be embarrassing. If the people want to know what the board has done, they can come to Mr. Lattimore. He will show the minutes. I have known Quarles longer than any of you. That report of the Monday meeting as was nearly correct literally as it could be, but some people get wrong ideas. We have had times gentlemen, when as we were leaving it was said "recollect our rule, that nothing is to be said of what we have discussed."

Mr. Brazelton—Did you see Mr. McCollum's paper today. It had a big line across the page about the school board and that goes out all over the county about how the mothers romped on the board, and it will not be understood. Mr. Rotan—I think if we had open meetings that they will have the board in politics in a short time. In matters of spending money, buying lands, buying equipment or other matters of that character, it should all be given to the public, but in electing teachers I would not want to speak freely before a reporter. We are all business men and are responsible for what we do as members of the board, and if the reporter is not charged with the same responsibility that we are, he is not competent to realize the position we take.

Mr. Darden—It would unquestionably hamper the discussion of the qualification of teachers and matters of discipline to have a reporter present. Men will hesitate to talk.

Public Does Not Understand Discussion.

Judge West—The discussion that takes place is not a part of the record. The record is the motion which is finally adopted and this is what the reporter is entitled to. If a reporter takes what every man says on every question, it is not understood by the public.

Mr. Rotan—I think it is fortunate that Mr. Quarles is here while we are having this discussion. He is a Waco boy and he will understand thoroughly what we say and why we say it.

Dr. Morrison—People get false impressions of remarks. At the meeting Monday when the matter of the Baylor foundation was being discussed I made the remark that "I am glad they have something at Baylor that we can adopt." I have been approached by a great many about that remark, some of them think I was making a slam at Baylor. I spoke to Brock about it today. She said she and Dr. Brooks had discussed the remark and they knew that I was a good friend of Baylor and did not mean to cast any reflections. My remark was intended to mean that I was glad to know that Baylor had a drinking fountain that was "good and clean" and since we have been unable to get anything satisfactory anywhere else.

Mr. Lattimore made a remark about Dr. Kessler not knowing what it would cost to equip the schools with fountains, and as printed that remark is subject to misconstruction, although the remark was printed just as it was made.

Judge West—I have heard that report in the paper commented on and one gentleman remarked to me that it was the opening wedge to put us all out next spring.

Dr. Morrison—I think when we have an open meeting with citizens that we should telephone Mr. Quarles to come and be present, but I do not favor discussing the little intricate things of the schools in the presence of a reporter.

Minutes Are Public.

Mr. Brazelton—Our minutes are public. As to the effect of my acts affecting my tenure of office as a member of the school board, I will say that I am giving my time to the school board that I could be using to make dollars, but if there is any decent man with capability wants the place, I will hand in my resignation.

Mr. Rotan—I think there are seven members who feel the same way.

Mr. Brazelton—I have wanted to see decent, capable men on the school board and I have served because I believed I was a decent man. There are some men who want to get on the school board so they can do some good and there are some men who want to get on the board possibly for a chance to graft.

Mr. Lattimore insists.

The discussion was apparently dropped at this time, as Mr. Lattimore was asked what he had to bring up next.

Mr. Lattimore suggested that his request had not been passed on.

He was answered that the board agreed that such discussions would not be required of him before a reporter.

Mr. Quarles then asked if he was to understand that the action of the board covered the entire subject—that is that the meetings were to be closed, or if he was to retire only while teachers were being discussed. "It is unnecessary for me to come here unless I can bring a meeting," said Mr. Quarles. "I don't care to cool my heels at the curbstone, while the meeting is in session. I am subject to your will in the matter. If you wish the meeting is closed to reporters, I will retire."

Some one suggested that no motion had been made, and Mr. Smith spoke up and said that he would make the motion, but it was finally agreed upon informally without a motion that the outsiders would not be allowed to attend the meetings.

Judge West presided at the meeting. Mr. Lattimore was secretary, and there were present Mr. Rotan, Mr. Brazelton, Mr. Darden, Dr. Morrison, Dr. Ainsworth and Mr. Smith, with E. H. Vaden the clerk.

IS FIRST NATIONAL AUDITOR

R. W. Jablonowski Gets Promotion, as Do Dupree and Sherman.

Following the newly established custom of the large banks of the country, the First National bank of Waco has elected an "auditor," that official to be an added officer of the institution.

It has been determined by the banking people of the large cities that business can be better handled by having a general auditor who is to have an oversight over all the books of the bank.

In creating the position the First National has advanced R. W. Jablonowski, who has been general bookkeeper, to the position. Mr. Jablonowski is one of the best bookkeepers in the state. He was for several years city secretary of Waco, and later was with the Waco State bank, but has for a number of years been an efficient employee of the First National.

Robert R. Dupree, who has been teller at the First National, has been advanced to the position of assistant cashier, a promotion that his work in the bank has merited.

Karl H. Sherman, who has been a bookkeeper, has been made teller to succeed Mr. Dupree.

TO HAVE SUPPLY OF PURE WATER

LAZENBY, MORRISON AND MILTON SCOTT APPOINTED TO SELECT A FOUNTAIN.

THE SCHOOL BOARD HAS ACTED

One School Is to Have Experimental Plan, But at All Schools Some Device Will Be Installed.

R. S. Lazenby as a citizen, Milton Scott as an architect, and Dr. W. R. Morrison as a member of the school board of Waco as a committee to install at once in one of the ward schools a cooling and drinking water device, as an experiment, looking to the adoption of a permanent fountain of some character for all the schools, and in the meantime every school in the city is to be equipped with some kind of simple water supply fountain that will eliminate the barrels or any other kind of container.

This was the action taken at the meeting of the Waco school board yesterday afternoon. W. B. Brazelton was in the chair, and it was decided that something be done at once and the final action of the board is the result of motions made by Dr. Morrison and Mr. Brazelton, the ideas of the two members being incorporated into one motion.

Mr. Lazenby Present.

R. S. Lazenby was present at the board meeting by invitation to discuss the drinking water question with the members of the board. He favored a filter fountain for all the schools, but stated that the filter would have to be cleaned every day to make it sanitary and to keep the bacteria from collecting in it.

Dr. Morrison brought up an objection to the filter because it would be necessary to clean it every day, or it would become impure. "Let's give clear water like every one gets in town," said Dr. Morrison. "We can arrange for some device for cooling it. That thing Mr. Lazenby constructed for the Sanger Avenue school, in modified form to fit the needs of the schools, would be all right."

There were samples of all kinds of fountains on the tables before the members of the board and they fingered a collection of nickel-plated things of every description.

Teachers' Private Supply.

Dr. Morrison said: "Mrs. Brooks told me that the teachers and principals have their own water supply for drinking at the schools, in private buckets."

Mr. Darden—Do they?

Mr. Lattimore—If they do it is their own arrangement.

Mr. Lazenby—I think it is all right if they do.

Mr. Brazelton—If they have, the school board ought not to furnish the private supply or arrangements.

Judge West—I'd like to know about it and just what they have.

Mr. Lattimore—I think at the Central school they have a jar.

Judge West—Yes, but these things are magnifying. First thing you know, there will be a barrel.

Mr. Vaden Furnished Buckets.

Clerk Vaden—I think I can tell you about it. They asked for coolers for the teachers and I told them we could furnish coolers. They then asked for buckets and I told them they could draw buckets from the supply stores if they had use for a bucket.

Some of them took new buckets and got for the lunch use. At the Central school they have taken a jar we had for an umbrella stand, and have cleaned it up and use it for drinking water.

Mr. Darden—If the teachers cannot drink the water supplied to the schools, the children ought not to.

Judge West—I have been for a week using water out of the hydrant. Is the same water the people are using all over town?

Dr. Morrison—Mr. Lazenby, don't you think we could take your Sanger Avenue plan and use it at the Central school? They have taken a jar we had for an umbrella stand, and have cleaned it up and use it for drinking water.

Mr. Lazenby—I don't drink anything else but clean water.

Mr. Lazenby—There ought to be filters and they ought to be cleaned every day. It takes five minutes to clean filters.

Mr. Morrison—It would take as long to clean a barrel.

Mr. Lazenby—You cannot clean a barrel at all.

Mr. Brazelton—If we can give a child as good water as that child gets at home, we cannot be expected to do more.

Mr. Lazenby—I think the school should give better.

Mr. Brazelton—If a proper one is found, all the children have 600 children to look after. We members of the school board cannot clean filters.

Ainsworth Opposes Filters.

Dr. Ainsworth—I favor as good water as Mr. Lazenby, but the filter won't work. There are not 1 per cent of the people drinking filtered water.

Mr. Lazenby—if the gentlemen in charge of each school will look after the cleaning it will be all right. If the women did not go to their laboratories (their kitchens) every day this bunch of senegambians and barbarians we have here would poison everybody.

Mr. Rotan—I think it ought to be made the duty of the principal to look after the matter.

Mr. Darden and Judge West in chorus—It is their duty.

Mr. Brazelton—Then we load them down with a lot of class work and other duties and they don't have time.

IN THE LOCAL COURTS

JOHNSON CASE IS GIVEN TO THE JURY AFTER FULL ARGUMENT.

County Attorney Neff Pleaded That the Law Be Upheld and the Defendant Convicted.

The case of Alec Johnson is now in the hands of a jury of twelve of his peers. Following the closing speech of County Attorney Neff yesterday afternoon, Judge Richard L. Munroe in the Fifty-fourth district court, read his instructions to the jury. He showed signs of the strain under several special instructions offered by counsel for the defense, and placed the case in charge of the jury at 5:21 o'clock in the afternoon.

Before entering upon consideration of the case, the members of the jury had supper and then retired to their room. Should an agreement have been reached last night, arrangements had been made for Sheriff Tilley to notify the court officers at 9 o'clock. A late hour no verdict had been rendered, the members of the jury finally retiring for the night.

Johnson, himself listened intently to each address made before the jury. He showed signs of the strain under which he has been for the past seven days of the trial, and appeared less buoyant as the crisis of the case arrived. Many of his friends came to him during the day with expressions of encouragement.

Unless an agreement is reached, the jury will probably be closeted throughout today.

Arguments Close.

Attorneys Neff Williams, S. E. Starnes and L. D. Williams submitted arguments for the defense yesterday in the Johnson case, and County Attorney Neff closed for the state.

Counsel for the defense dealt chiefly with the reputation of A. P. Duncan, whom the county attorney, in an address said by many to have been one of the strongest ever made in the court house, summed up the evidence as he saw it, and urged the jury to convict.

Mr. Neff declared that he had accounted for Johnson's conduct, but meant that his people had been friends of Johnson's people. He said he had never been so grieved as when he had been forced to take up the case against Johnson; that he believed it more than a case of punishment of one man for the killing of another, but meant the upholding of the law which was the foundation of the government.

An arraignment of the kinds of juries that sit in the courts and a challenge to the members of the jury in the Johnson case to return a verdict of "not guilty" in the face of the evidence presented to them, were features of his address. Mr. Neff spared no man who would enter jury service with previous knowledge as to what his final verdict would be in the case, regardless of the law, the evidence or the instructions of the court.

While speaking of his former relations with Alec Johnson, Mr. Neff's voice broke and he showed much emotion. He declared that he loved his duty, but that the duty had proven a hard one for him. Had he not believed the evidence justified him, he would undoubtedly have never asked the grand jury to return a true bill in the case.

State against Alec Johnson, charged with the murder of A. P. Duncan. Went to jury at 5:21 in the afternoon.

Scott, and we pay him. We cannot pay Mr. Lazenby for this work.

Mr. Brazelton—We are all busy men and we get no pay.

Dr. Morrison—I'll amend your motion to have Mr. Lazenby and Mr. Scott.

Mr. Brazelton—And Dr. Morrison. Is a live issue.

Dr. Morrison—Take up one school building and equip it at once. I admit I have been asleep on this matter. I have been busy. The ladies have brought it up and it is a live issue right now with this board. This committee is to look after every feature, drainage, cooling, fountain, etc.

Mr. Rotan—In the experiment will not satisfy the ladies. See that the janitors do not use coal scuttles to clean on the barrels.

Judge West (jokingly)—If we had been using charcoal the scuttles would be all right.

Mr. Brazelton—We ought to do what we agreed to do years ago. We ought to put in pinch cocks at all schools and a drainage trough, some simple device. We are going to the expense of one school of cooling and filtering. I move that we at once install some character of drinking device at every school.

Judge West—Do you want to put any limit of expense on the committee?

Mr. Brazelton—I don't think so. If it costs $50 or $100 at each school we will have to do it. Let the committee decide.

Dr. Morrison—If the committee finds that it is an unusual expense we will report the matter back.

Then it was that the ideas of Dr. Morrison and Mr. Brazelton were incorporated in one motion and adopted.

As Mr. Lazenby was leaving some one jokingly suggested that Dr. Pepper be put in all schools.

Mr. Lazenby, owner of Dr. Pepper, answered that he was not trying to advertise, but Dr. Morrison, who originated Dr. Pepper and is yet proud of the beverage, spoke up and said, "If they had Dr. Pepper they would have a better drink than they have now," and some one closed the discussion with the suggestion that if they had Dr. Pepper it would not be necessary to filter it.

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR.

Day Is Devoted to Secret Work of the Organization.

Business connected with the order occupied the attention of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star yesterday. The attendance at the sessions of the order was near the one thousand mark. The organization's work is secret. The sessions to be held today will be the last of the meetings this year. No arrangements were made to furnish the press with a report of the proceedings that could be made public.

To Eastern Star Visitors.

To my hundred and sixty-six lady delegates: I thank you for making my hotel your home while attending the convention now being held. I must confess that you have been the most pleasant, agreeable and congenial crowd I have ever handled. If at any time myself or any of my employees have failed to do all they could for your comfort and pleasure, I am sure it has been an oversight.

I take this method of thanking you, and at any time you come to our fair city I will always be glad if you would make the New Exchange Hotel your home. Yours to please,

A. D. Adams, Proprietor. (Adv.)
